This weekend, we're dropping yet another perfect kryptonite for them long weeks.

Throwback, wait for it, podcasts!

We know y'all are abundantly filled in on the whole podcast boom and how it's been a revelation as a market. No new stats there. As has been the case with the new indulgence in trend, Nostalgia. And for our next trick, we bring them together. There is a strange sense of comfort in listening to podcasts from the simpler times of harlem shake and selfie sticks.dabs awkwardly

Go sit by a window, soak some sun and vibe out to this throwback gold. Or when you're lazy on your bed, revisiting old conversations in your head.
